

St. John Students...Do you want to see solar gases erupting off the sun???

Come and join us for our 1st Annual Science Festival. This will be a fun-filled day of exciting exhibits, hands-on activities, contests, prizes, and yummy snacks will be sold to benefit Project Play. Organizations participating in our event include:

- San Diego Astronomy Association – students will be able to look at the sun through solar scopes.
- Encinitas Fire Department – students will have an opportunity to view a fire and safety demonstration in the church parking lot.
- Legoland Sea Life Aquarium – will provide sea-life exhibits that the students will be able to touch and feel.
- San Diego Natural History Museum – will provide different bone exhibits to examine.
- And so much more.....

This is a school wide event for all St. John students and their families. The day is designed to stimulate the curious mind in all of us. Mark your calendar for Tuesday, March 16th from 3 – 5:30 pm.
